MANRIQUE

INSPIRATION-TRIBUTE: César Manrique and his island of Lanzarote.

COLLECTION NAME: T A R O – Ancient stone constructions typical of Lanzarote and that is how César Manrique called his house:

- TAHICHE TARO -

"circular tower made of dry stone and without mortar, which was used to preserve vegetables, cure cheeses, shelter the shepherd, etc., or to watch from high points".

MESSAGE: A journey from aesthetics to ethics, from art to ecology and sustainability. Manrique was like a child playing with stones, plants and colors.

CHROMATIC RANGE: The natural landscape of Lanzarote.

- Cactus – Lava – Volcanic Land – Ecrú

FABRICS:

- 100% organic cotton.

PRINTS & FRAMES:

- Stripes of different designs and sizes in the colors of the collection.
Crochet

CAMPAING SHOOTING:

- Location: Lanzarote
- Importance for the architecture and landscape of Manrique.
- Lanzarote Chimneys – The Volcanic Land – Cactus -
- Pictorial works and ceramics by Manrique.
- Peasant women and contrasts from Lanzarote.

PHOTOGRAPHER: Raquel Chicheri
